Volunteer Program for Retired Seniors Presented at Library Many Local Opportunities Available

Pocatello's Marshall Public Library, 113 South Garfield Avenue, will host a program on Monday, March 1, 2010, at 2:00 p.m. for people of retirement age who are looking for opportunities to volunteer locally.

The program will be presented by Helen Mayberry, Director of Senior Services for the Retired Senior Volunteer Program at SEICAA. People over 55 comprise about 20% of the total population in Bannock County. Many people in this age group are retired and are interested in donating their time to local organizations in need of assistance. Mayberry will provide information on volunteer opportunities around Pocatello and help those interested in volunteering to connect with the organizations that best fit their interests and lifestyles.

This program is free and open to the public. If you would like more information, please call Amy Campbell at the Marshall Public Library at 232-1263 extension 22.
